

Harts is a new project in the Heathrow villages, using community led arts of different mediums to combat the blight from the airport, and encourage a more creative, connected and sustainable community.

There is a 'design lab' event on Sunday 8th February, where locals and artists will be matched up to plan projects for the area (the specifics of which will be worked out by the groups involved). More info below.

We are looking for local people and artists who are interested in community arts to be involved on the 8th Feb & afterwards.

For this event, we are especially looking for people interested in community murals, photography, textiles, crafts and landscape art, although other art forms are welcomed.

Please let us know if you're interested or pass on to contacts who may be; many thanks....
